ABOUT ME

Hi! I'm Can. I'm a software developer. 26 years old. From games to full stack development, I am developing softwares. I mostly use Flutter. I developed real world business applications using Flutter and various databases, including Firebase. On the other hand, I love creating art. I play my guitar when I'm not working and listen music a lot. I love fitness and I like to read books.

ABOUT

İşim Benim is a recruiting app that was published on Playstore. But later I removed it from store because I dropped it. I was just simply improving my Flutter skills more. I thought that it would be beautiful if I'd develop this app and earn money. I was studying at the time. Also, I was learning Flutter programming and my mindset were not the way it is now. Now, I'm different from that time. Anyway, let's back to where we have left. The app wasn't something like an AAA application. It was not optimized. It was not a production thing. It hadn't any API and real world data. This application was simply just getting it's data and printing it on Card widgets. App has an bottom navigation bar. But all these improved me and I gained hands-on experience in developing with Flutter.

This application is developed with Flutter using Provider and BLoCs. This app uses Firebase as it's database. BLoC's are used in authentication and handling the user data. App used it's own libraries in front-end part. Libraries are great tools to use to not repeat the code. Anyway, these were basically functions that were coloring texts, widgets etc. Algolia is used as the search engine of the application. Google Maps SDK is used. Geolocation packages of Flutter, which of them I don't know anyway, are used to calculate the location. The data were coming from Firebase. The whole UI and colors designed by me. It's pretty bad to me now. Here is some of the screenshots below this page.
